

Fees and Costs - Dover

Residential Aged Care

1. Basic Daily Fee (BDF)

Every resident pays the basic daily fee for day-to-day services they receive such as meals, cleaning, laundry, and heating. The government sets the BDCF twice yearly on March 20 and September 20.

The BDF is indexed to 85% of the single person basic aged pension.

The BDF is paid directly to us and is invoiced monthly. The fee applies for every day you are a resident, including days when you might be away overnight e.g. on holiday or in hospital.

2. Accommodation Payment

This is the agreed cost of the room. How much you pay is determined with a means assessment. Payment options consist of paying a refundable lump sum deposit, or paying as non-refundable daily payments, or combining both. Daily payments attract a maximum permissible interest rate applied as scheduled from entry date.

Depending on your means assessment by Services Australia/DVA, you may be fully supported and pay no accommodation fees, you may be partially supported where you are assessed to pay an accommodation contribution, or you may be assessed to pay the full accommodation fees.

3. Means Tested Care Fee (MTCF)

Some people are required to pay an extra ongoing fee towards the cost of their personal and clinical care. It is advised by Services Australia from your means assessment. The MTCF is different for everyone, and not everyone will have to pay it. The MTCF does not remain fixed and can change over time.

Your MTCF will fall between $0 and $416.05 per day. Annual and lifetime caps apply.

4. Other Fees

Lifestyle PLUS additional services fees apply and optional service fees for items you agree to.
